

Experienced technical expertise is essential, but many businesses don't consider it a core part of their operations and need a smarter, more efficient alternative to in-house teams.

SCI solves this challenge by connecting clients with top-tier technical professionals while embedding them within our expert network. This ensures not only the right talent but also ongoing support, collaboration, and access to broader solutions —delivering real value for both the business and the specialist.

Our Approach to Strategic Technical Placement Services

What's the SCI difference?

- People—Our global network of individuals increases our chances of providing the best fit for the individual and the customer.
- Flexibility – Sometimes customers need short-term support and want to outsource this aspect permanently. SCI can support in all circumstances.
- Support – SCI never launch and leave. For placements to work, an excellent support framework must be in place. If individuals can develop their careers whilst delivering the support the customer needs, then there is a win/win.
- Faster customer solutions—Providing the right person is a brilliant start. Still, because SCI has developed a wide range of solutions, the person can become the conduit to these, helping customers access solutions more quickly.
- Keep our costs low—At SCI, we keep our operating costs minimal to ensure that cost should never be a barrier to using our services. We are confident that we can offer customers more efficient solutions than they can generate.
- Deliver outcomes – Customers increasingly want to pay for results, not effort. We are pleased to work within those parameters.

SCI: A reliable partner for today, an innovative partner for tomorrow.
